Fire drill held at Carbondale Nursing Home

On Wednesday, Oct. 7, William F. Burrell, fire chief of the City of Carbondale, held a fire drill for the residents of the Carbondale Nursing Home.

In observance of National Fire Prevention Week, Chief Burrell presented a movie followed by a discussion and a question-and-answer period.

The exercise concluded with the distribution of fire prevention literature.

General Hospital adds closed circuit television

Carbondale General Hospital has added a closed circuit television channel to its patient education services, according to Richard A. Pascoe, the hospital's executive director.

The television channel is just a part of Carbondale General's patient education department, which specializes in one-to-one instruction by Mrs. Kovaleski. Working from referrals from doctors, other nurses and from information on patient charts, Mrs. Kovaleski meets with pre- and post-operative patients and with patients having such illnesses as diabetes, hypertension or coronary artery disease.

In addition to the new television medium, Mrs. Kovaleski utilizes instructional tools such as flip charts, pamphlets and visual aids.

According to Mrs. Kovaleski, acquisition of additional films on various subjects is being planned.

Ambulance group will hold seminar

The Northeastern Pennsylvania Volunteer Ambulance Association will hold a one-day seminar on Sunday, Oct. 18, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Eagle Host Co., Dickson City.

The seminar is aimed at helping local squads to update training and to learn new skills.

Fell flood insurance coverage upped

Limits of federal flood insurance coverage have been increased from $35,000 up to $165,000 for residents of Fell Township. Bernard Masala, chairman of the Fell Township Board of Supervisors, made the announcement of the increase which resulted from the recent adoption by local elected officials of measures to safeguard property from flooding.

In addition to the increase in the property insurance coverage, contents coverage has been increased from $10,000 to the present $60,000.

Federal flood insurance increases for small business and other classes of structures are also obtainable. To purchase the insurance coverage an individual need only to apply through any licensed property and casualty insurance agent.

Information on rates and amounts of insurance available may be obtained from any licensed property and casualty insurance agent.

According to the Federal Insurance and Hazard Mitigation Office of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, during the first 30 days after a jurisdiction has converted to the regular phase of the National Flood Insurance Program, coverage will become effective the day following application, whereas normally there is a 60-day waiting period.

Under certain circumstances this time period could be very important. Fell Township was converted to the regular phase on Sept. 30, 1981.

Maps showing the flood-prone areas of Fell Township may be seen at Fell Township Municipal Building, Main St., Simpson.

St. Joseph's holds 'Respect Life Week'

St. Joseph's Hospital, Carbondale, joined other Catholic health care facilities across the country in observing Respect Life Week from Oct. 4-10, with special programming.

The 10th annual week is sponsored by the Catholic Health Association of the United States (CHAS).

Discussion during the week centered on the rights for disabled persons as stressed in the current "International Year of the Disabled," the role of the family, rights of the unborn, children, and aging, human rights, and the continuing concerns of abortion, sterilization, and other issues.

St. Joseph's joined other Catholic hospitals in its advocacy on behalf of protecting all human life from conception to natural death.

Sister Cephan Ryan, IHM, executive director, said that special events were held during the week to underscore the hospital's philosophy on caring for the "whole" patient and not just treating the illness.

This series of programs is coordinated by the 1980-1981 annual report of St. Joseph's.

presented at the annual meeting of the board of directors, which was held recently.

Hospital programs and services were also highlighted with a special display on the main lobby bulletin board under the theme "Respect Life Week - All Year 'Round".

Through these programs, St. Joseph's enhances its delivery of health care while also upholding the individual's basic right to receive quality health care.

One of the subjects highlighted for Respect Life Week was St. Joseph's Medical Moral Committee. It is the task of this committee to provide a forum in which issues regarding terminally ill, critical care, and emergency care patients are discussed as well as matters of death and dying, then such recommendations, as necessary, are made.

Members of the committee are available as consultants in individual and particular situations.

The Community Health Information Program (CHIP) was also highlighted. This series of programs is coordinated by the hospital's patient education department with the goal to educate the general public regarding health maintenance in an effort to stop or reduce future hospital stays. CHIP is presently planning a four-week seminar on the aging process scheduled to begin on Oct. 16.

Throughout the past year, St. Joseph's upheld the Respect Life Week theme regarding the whole person with such activities as the first annual Employee Health Fair, Memorial Masses celebrated in the hospital and chapel in memory of deceased patients and their families, special luncheons honoring the senior citizens in the Carbondale area and the hospital's volunteers.

A special prayer service was held in the hospital by the Rev. E. Frances Kelly, hospital chaplain, on Tuesday, Oct. 6. The noon service was broadcast to the patients' rooms over the closed circuit television channel.

All Respect Life Week activities were coordinated by Father Kelly and the pastoral care department.
